

WE NOMINATE

William Worthington Marvel, a singularly able and acticulate Princetonian, who this week-a month before his 13rd birthday-was elevated to what could well become one of the most influential posts in American higher education, the presidency of Education and World Affairs, a new organization established with support from both The Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The mission of E.W.A., 1epresenting three years of planning on the part of some of the country's tough-minded educators, is to promote cooperation and communication among educational institutions and agencies so that they will be able to realize "their enormous potential in contributing to American competence in international affairs."

The seeds for L.W.A., two of whose founding trustees are Princetonians Robert F. Goheen and David E. Lillenthal were sown in 1960 by the widely distributed "Morrill Report" ("The University and World Al-Laits"), urging the creation of a mechanism which would strengthen this nation's leadership by stimulating the wise development and employment of vast educational resources. Upon Marvel will fall the responsibility of working out the types of relationships that will peimit institutions, often closely allied with the Federal Govcrimient and loundations in imdertakings overseas, to function "not alone but as parts of a web of supporting and cooperating non-profit organizations" in inceting educational challenges presented by world affairs. To his assignment the Maryland-born Maryel brings a decade of experience as a ranking executive of the Carnegie Corporation concerned with its international allairs program, Over the years, as the United States responded to changed world conditions and to the new demands of new nations, he gained unusual insights into educational matters through his involvement in a dozen pioneering programs. While foundation officers understandably operate in the shadows of anonymity, Marvel played major roles in endowing loreign area study programs with a "new look," in initiating "academic travel to the Soviet Union" and in Jaunching such ventures as the Cornell-London Program in Chinese and Southeast Asian Studies,

From the time he entered Princeton University in 1937 from Baltimore's Forest Park High School Marvel's interests have been centered in "regions and peo-ples little known by Americans," He was graduated with highest honors in the Woodrow Wilson School and during World War II served with distinction with the Foreign Service in Latin America and, subsequently, with the U.S. Army's Counter Intelligence Corps and Corps of Military Police in this hemisphere and the Far East, His years of post-graduate study here at Princeton, 1916-1949, were capped by what one builty member recalls as a top-mode iloctoral dissortation, "Foreign Aid and United States Security A Study of Demands on the Post-War Assistance Programs.

A member of the laculties at Yide and the United States Military Academy in the early 1950's, he was tapped by the Carnegie Corporation in 1952 when holding forth as Program Officer for Non-Emopean Areas in the Office of the Director for Mutual Security in Washington, Marvel, a New York Princeton commater since 1952, has been extremely active in community allairs. He was a principal organizer of the Democratic Party in Princeton Lownship and, from 1958 until the end of 1961, was the lone Demorration the Township Committee.

For his capacities for serving as an "architect and engineer," rather than as an analyst and evaluator, in human affairs; for his awareness of the "impressive opportunities now confronting American education in world allairs"; he is TOWN TOPICS' nomince as Township Tables Ordinance.

Shifting into reverse gear, Township Committee backed out of its no-overnight-parking ordinance Monday night and tabled it by a 3-1 vote.
The dissenter was Maurice F, Healy, Jr., who wanted the ordinance sent back to the Traffic Safety Committee for more study.

The advantages are rather tenuous and the hardships are real," commented Edwin C. Hutter, Van Dyke Road, who entered into the record an loquent opposition to the or-

"The public pays for the streets and should be allowed to use them not only for circulation, but as a place to eulation, but as a place to park a car," Mr. Hutter said. "Police say they want cars off the streets so they can more "Police say they want can more easily see a prowler, but breaking-and-entering is not confined to the hours of 2-6 a.m. A prowler ean be finished with his work by 2 a.m., if he plans carefully, and besides, a car parked all night in front of a house doesn't necessarily of a house doesn't necessarily of a house doesn't necessarily and besides, a car parked all night in front of a house doesn't necessarily of a house doesn't necessa

Mr. Hutter cited the Township's contention that cars on the street hamper fire engines, and said he thought that three or four cars jammed into a driveway in a crowded section like Birch-John was a much more serious hazard.

Where to Park? Mrs. Helen Geary, 102 Birch Avenue, said that the ordinance would be a definite hardship in her area. "A car is a necessity for someone with a job," she said, "and there is no place to park it except on the street when your lot is 30 feet wide and 24 feet of it is taken up by your house."

Mayor R. Kenneth Falrman said at one point that he thought that the hathroum briefly and returned to find the child unconscious She and a neighbor rished the little broad running behind the houses on the west side of Harrison's street parking problem, and a strip of black-top laid down hetween John and Race in the Community Gardens area might solve the Witherspoon - Birch - John parking difficulty.

Tabling the ordinance proved to be the answer, at least for the time being.

How Fast? What is a "built-with a principly and returned to find the child unconscious She and a neighbor rished the little thind the house he had a neighbor rished the little thouse he is replaced to a retident a public and a neighbor rished the little thind an eighbor rished the little did unconscious of the little that a public had a city to out a strip of black-top land a neighbor rished the little did unconscious dead on arrival at 2 20.

Administrator Joseph n. Nini said that hack yards could be converted to parking areas if there were not enough room for a driveway, but his remark was greeted with some coolness. He also suggested that neighbors share drives the converted to parking areas are the only ones that can legally have a 25 mp ph. speed limit. According to state definition, streets are either 25 or 50 m.p.h., unless an official state survey — like the one sanctioned for Snowden Lane, which resulted in a reduction which resulted in a reduction to 35 m.p.h. — says otherwise

The state says that a "builtup" area is one with 300 feet of built-on frontage in any 600 feet. This means that a nicely spaced residential area, of which there are many in the Township, simply cannot qualify. But nobody wants ears zooming through these areas at 50 m.p.h., which they can legally do, so the Traffic Safety Committee is asking the state to consider a change.

"How much chance do you think you have with the state?" asked Mayor Fairman, who has had long and patient experience in these matters
He told Henry J. Frank, Traffic Safety Committee chairman, that he thought a definite proposal to the state would be better than a broader, more general request for change.

The Traffic Safety Committee's thoughts were referred to Mr. Nini, who was asked to pay a personal call on state officials to see what might be Committee passed the ordinance increasing sewer rental rates from $15 to $20 for the base charge. There will be a charge of $1.50 for each 1,000 cubic feet of water consumed over 15,000 cubic feet. Since over 15,000 cubic feet. Since the average home uses only 12,000 cubic feet a year, this will catch only the big users, which is the intent of the ordinance.

If a house uses well water instead of city water, it will be compared to a house of similar size and design that does use city water, and charged the same.

PLAYHOUSE and PRINCE
The Birds (now playing) is based on the classic thriller by Daphne du Maurier which tells of a terrifying bird war against the inhabitants of a small town in northern Callfornia.

The unusual melodrama, Alfred Hiltcheed's Gret Girl (Insten) Research County are Princeton High School and Ewing High, Trenton.

New Jersey counties are represented. The two represented in the principle of the two represented in the principle of the two rep

The unusual fornia.

The unusual melodrama, Alfred Hitchcock's first film since "Psycho," begins on a light comedy level with "Tippi" Hedren meeting Rod Taylor in a San Francisco pet shop. She follows him to Bodega Bay on the filmsy pretext that she is bringing a present, a pair of lovebirds, for his sister — whom she has not even met.

For Freud, producer John Histon selected Montgomery Clift, who undertakes his most exacting role to date. In support of Clift is Susannah York as the beautiful girl whose physical illness and cure by the application of the developing Freud theory is actually a fictionalized distillation of several of Freud's actual cases. Larry Parks plays a physician

In typical Hitchock "coun-terpoint," the frothy situation is disrupted by the first bird hostilities. Hundreds of gulls terpoint," the frothy situation is disrupted by the first bird hostilities. Hundreds of gulls suddenly swoop down, attacking children. Stark terror hits the entire community after a man is pecked to death by the the entire community after a man is pecked to death by the assaulting birds. The climax of the bird war is incredible. Comment, not for the faint-hearted,

Frend (now playing) tells the story of the Austrian gen-conflict with Freud.

The photography of locations in Vienna where Freud actually worked and the special techniques in the dream sequences are most impressive. Huston develops the story as an engrossing mystery as Freud uses the case of Miss York to develop his dawning thesis. The sexual manifestations are handled with frankness. Comment: Freud distilled.

What's "Clearance?"

The phrase "Clearance Sale" seems to mean all things to all women shoppers, as the Princeton Decorating Shop found out to its surprise last week.

Innocently advertising a "Clearance Sale" in order to re-organize a bibelot here and there and make room for the expanded inventory of antiques they expect to carry from now on, the ladies at Princeton Deeorating found themselves with a wildly disturbed clientele:

For a modern home, Princeton Decorating suggests richly colored glass, like the ruby colored glass, like the ruby that has been used in a 15-inch tear-drop decauter. Two Off-shaped squares, set one on top of the other, have been used to make a vase which would show off with opulence against a sunny window. The glass is emecald, ruby, amber, sapplier, clear — all in the off-side squares that repeat the shope of the vise itself, with an effect rather like a palchwork.

Moderns will use in their cheme of Hilings the myrth scheme of things the myrth-wood bookends, plain and slab-like, their only adornment the strains of dark and light that make the myrtle itself. Cory S. Kommler kerosene stor-ed at their base, Little Amer-lea, froze solid when tempera-tures hit 71 degrees below zero in July. Anyone for Ant-arctica? Experiments indicate that gasoline will not freeze solid until temperatures get lower than 180-240 degrees lower than 180-240 degrees (Fahrenheit) below zero. The reason for the spread of 60 degrees is that apparently gasoline has no definite freezing point. Obviously in our clime nohody need ever worry about frozen fuel, but lubricating oils are quite another thing. Engine, rear end, transmission, and other lubricating oils must have exactly the right viscosity for the temperatures in which you are operating and exactly suited to the parts fuexactly suited to the parts lu-hricated. Improper oils and greases can increase wear hy more than 100% and often re-sult in complete breakdown, so it is pennywise and pound foolish to try to economize with oils. That is also true of the place where you have the lubricaling done, because, with the best intentions, people who do not know for sure the extended to the place act lubricants to use in each spot can cause untold damage. # How to enjoy the finest in Home Music

A stereophonic sound system in your home provides the finest possible mechanical reproduction of recorded music and FM radio. Never before has such concert hall fi-delity been available for home

The stereo system is different in several ways to ordinary high fidelity reproduction. In the first place stereo sound begins with two separate channels being recorded on each disc.

The record must be reproduced on a dual stylus record player. The new stereo record players will reproduce regular single channel records you now have, plus the new stereo records. Present single channel record players can be converted to stereo by the addition of a new stereo pickup head.

Two separate amplifier sections are required to amplify the two stereo sections of the recordings - and finally the sound is delivered in your home from two separate speakers.

This sound complicated and expensive? Actually, it is relatively simple and moderate in cost. You can buy stereo sound two ways . . .

- a, in a complete unit, with second speaker in matching cabinet. Such units are in stock from Fisher.
- b. assemble your own built-in stereo from balanced Fisher components, using dual University speakers.

All components and helpful suggestions are yours from the Music

You can't know how much finer reproduction is possible from sterco until you hear it yourself. Come to the Music Shop Dept. and you can listen anytime to a demonstration of stereo music. Once you hear this great improvement in mechanical sound reproduction, you'll be convinced that the future of home music is in stereo sound. Why not hear it Today?

How to get the most from your life insurance

It's a three step suggestion and, as it should, it starts with you. When you purchased life insurance, you no doubt had in mind definite jobs for it to do for your family if you die; for you if you live. But time brings many changes . . . and it makes good sense for you to review your objectives and to check whether your life insurance currently meets them.

There are two other people who can help. The first is your wife. Your life insurance is designed for her and the family and it's wise to have her know your plans. The more she understands your objectives, the more she will be able to help you keep them up-to-date, and the better she'll be able to use this priceless protection that is being paid for through her careful budgeting.

The second is the Man from Manufacturers.

Through him, the flexibility of your policies will come to life. His experienced, practical recommendations add up to an invaluable source of service for you now and for your family later.

The faithful who follow The faithful who follow Princeton basebali — and there is a hard core that sticks with the team in its roughest years—are taking much delight in debating what is primarily responsible for this year's fine start. Contributing factors range Contributing factors range from ability to play every game during a mild spring to vastly improved fielding and bitting. The real an-swer, however, has to be

Take Emll "Rosey" Rosenberg, for example—a 1-4 pilcher as a sophomore who last week not only beat well-regarded Seton Ifall and Army hut shut them out for 14 consecutive inbaseball seriously and in-variably fields a solid team, but the Tiger junior yielded just four hits in administering the convincing white-

He proved that there was more of the same to be had Saturday. When he arrived on the mound in a relief as-signment against Army, the eadets had runners on first and third, no one out and were in the thick of a 2-2 Eastern League game. Three batters later, Roson two strike outs and a grounder to third. Half an inning later, Princeton had broken the game open with a five-run rally and Rosey lung up four more "horse collars" on the score board while allowing just three scattered hits

The 21-year old graduate of New York's DeWitt Clinton High School gave indications last spring that his potential was well above average, but the Tigers' fielding problems and inability to work regularly pared his record to a 1-4 despite a solid 2.31 earned run average. His victory was a late-season 10-0 shutout of a surprised Rider out of a surprised Rider College nine..

This year, Rosenberg can trace his early success to good control an effective eurve and a change of pace that laid Army batters swinging well out in front of the ball. Well worth mentioning, too, in any report on the upturn in Princeton pitching performances is the return to the scene of Emerson Diekman, former lead cosed who this former head coach who this spring is devoting full time to working with the Tiger hurlers,

With two-thirds of the season stil ahead, it is too early to predict how extreme the reversal of Princeton baseball fortunes will be. But the early success is laid on the solidest of foundations; strong pitching of the sort dis-played last week by Rosey Rosenberg.

MUSIC In Princeton

SYMPHONY IN FINALE Plays Safran Premiere, On Monday evening at McCarter Theatre, the Princeton Symphony Orchestra presented its final concert of the 1962-1963 eason, under the musical di-cetion of Nicholas Harsanyi.

season, under the musical direction of Nicholas Harsanyi. The Columbus Boychoir, directed by Donald Bryant, joined the oredestra in works by Bartok and Debussy, in whose "La Demoiscile Elue" the soloists were Joanna Richard, soprano, and Rachel Armstrong, alto. The concert opened with three selections from Beethoven's ballet, "The Creatures of Promethens": the well-known overture, the little-known adaglo, and the allegretto finale, which is based on a time famillar in another context. The slow section showed off some excellent solo work by several members of the orchestra, and the Overture was hondled with considerable efficiency, although subtletles of rhythm and phrase structure, both here and in the finale, did not seem to make their fullest possible effect, ments", which was commissioned for the ocasion. Mr. Safram's work leaves little question of his technical competence, hut it suffers from a certain conventionality of thematic material, and from a lack of rhythmic and textural variety. In particular, the squareness of many of the musical gestmes is aggravated by the squareness of their development, so that the pieces rarely got off the ground. Part of the difficulty may have rested in the performance, at least if the tempo indications printed in the program are to be taken seriously; the linal presto went (not too nnhappily) at something more like ab allegro, and the first piece, marked "allegro ma non troppo". would surely have been more comfortable with more "allegro" and less "non troppo". Would surely have been more comfortable with more "allegro" and less "non troppo". To there the respects, the performances seemed orderly and proficient.

Demoiselle Elue", which made, on the whole, a very nice ef-fect. The discipline of the choir was noteworthy, al-though they rarely sang softly though they rarely sang softly enough and one feels that the rather special sound of boys voices is probably not what Debussy had in mind when he specified "women's volces" in the score. The soloists came closer to the proper idiom and sang to good effect except in the rlimaxes, where they were often covered by the orehestra.

The concert closed with six choruses for treble voices and

The concert closed with six choruses for treble voices and orchestra by Bartok, rather conventional pieces for that composer. The Columbus Boychoir achieved its best success here, singing with remarkable precision and vitality. A printed text for these pieces would have been welcome, however, since the words did not often come through clearly (through no foult of the chorus it probable). no foult of the choras it prob-ably can't be done except with a very small group).

VILLAGE COIN-OP DRYCLEANERS

108 N. Main Street, Hightstown

A LIVING & GROWING INVESTMENT, The living part A LIVING & GROWING INVESTMENT, The living part of this property is a genuiuely charming nld 5 hdrm, home, will line original detail, plus tenant house & bark, all in A-1 condition. The growing (already begin) should be fabulous in this pleasant Hopewell Twp. area, a scenie part of our future—nigh!—"megalopolis," 75 acres, road frontage galore, zoning, location, fields, woods, contours, all aid up to a superb long-firm investment picture. Meanwhile, the living for a country loving family should be woullerful.

Gel away from it all in a LOG CABIN IN THE WOODS, not miles out, as you might think, but almost in the heart of Princeton! Actually, it's fancier than it sounds: A large liv. rm. with cathedral celling and huge stone fireplace, attenctive paneling made from trees on the place, usable kilchen, smallish din rm. 2 birms, and a real hathroom. Set in 4 treeful acres, the properly could be irresistable to wood layers!

$37,500 (less with less land)

OFT OF THE IRCH-PRICED AREA but close to a nice meighboring flown and good schools is a well-huill ranch that the suddenly transferred owners will lose on to sell fast, Liv rm (with 6' brick fireplace wall), family-dining rm., slunding kitchen, 3 big bdrms., 2 tiled baths, full dry basement—all are large. All this set on 1½ beautifully planted access for only $26,500 (with a very low down payment) should pursuade knowtedgeable budgeters to drop the Princelou point of view! the Princelon point of view!

WITH A SLIGHTLY ELEGANT AIR but still warm and welcoming, this West End Colonial has interior and extrlor appeal. A large liv. rm. opens onto a dreamy terrare, enhanced by a landscaper's inspiration; wisterla overhead to lel whiter sun in and vice-versa. The bilrars, (3 or 4) are nice, specially the master suite. The kitchen, with eating area, is one any cook would hove to work in, though the equipment its not 1963, the charm and workahility are limebess. Piece the resistance, bewitching studio overhading graden.
